The Leader Transition Institute (LTI) Announces New Partnership with Department of Labor Veterans' Employment and Training Service (VETS)

WASHINGTON, February 8th, 2024 - The Leader Transition Institute is thrilled to announce it has been selected as a Department of Labor Veterans' Employment and Training Service, Employment Navigator Partnership Program partner.

The partnership is designed to support active-duty service members and their spouses, along with veterans from all eras, and complement the department's traditional transition workshops.

"Transition can be challenging, and the support from LTI for our transitioning service members, and their spouses, makes it easier for them to chart their new course," said James Rodriguez, Assistant Secretary, US Department of Labor, Veterans' Employment and Training Service.

LTI CEO Annie Brock says, "We look forward to working with VETS and ENPP to help bridge the gap between where people are and where they want to be." She added, "LTI's Changing Focus: Moving From We to Me program directly addresses the challenges service members encounter as they adapt from serving in the military to reintegrating, and living and working in a civilian community."

LTI now joins 58 nongovernmental and two governmental organizations in the program, operating across 31 military installations worldwide.
